Coach Development Plan

Built on the GRIP model: Goals, Reflect/Review, Input, Plan

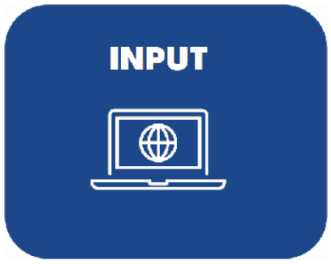

A short, practical plan for where you want to go as a coach and how you will get there. It takes about 30 minutes. Work through it in order, and ideally talk it through with a mentor or someone from your club. A conversation makes it far more likely to happen.

What am I working towards?

Where am I now, and what is working?

What can help me get there?

What will I do, and by when?

About me

Name		Date
Club / team		Age group & level
Current licence / diploma		Years coaching
My mentor or club contact		Next catch-up

How to use this plan

1. Goals. Start with where you want to get to, so everything else has a purpose.

2. Reflect / Review. Be honest about where you are now. What is working, and what are you less sure about?

3. Input. Decide what will help: people, learning, observation, feedback, time.

4. Plan. Turn it into a few clear actions with names and dates. Then come back and review.

Keep it small. One or two goals you will actually do beat six you will not. Aim for a first step you can take this week. Come back to the Review page at 3, 6 and 12 months.

GOALS

What am I working towards?

My goal for the next 12 months (for example: the next licence, a new age group, a higher level, better game-day confidence)

My goal for the next 3 months (a first step)

How I will know I have got there

What will be different for my players if I get there?

REFLECT/REVIEW

Where am I now, and what is working?

Tick how you would honestly rate yourself on each area today.

Area	Strong	Developing	Needs attention
Planning and preparing sessions
Coaching in the session (observing, questioning, giving feedback)
Managing match day
Communicating with players and building relationships
Working with parents, volunteers and the club
Leadership and staying positive under pressure
Developing players in an age-appropriate way

Two things that are going well (and the evidence)

Two things I want to get better at

A recent session or match I would do differently, and what I would change

INPUT

What can help me get there?

Tick what could help, then note who or what.

[ ] Watch another coach at work

[ ] Work with a mentor (see Coach 2 Mentor)

[ ] A course or licence

[ ] Record a session and review it

[ ] Ask a trusted colleague for feedback

[ ] Read, watch or listen (books, video, podcasts)

[ ] A club coach education session

[ ] Try a new approach in training

People who can help me

What I need from my club (time, support, contribution to costs)

PLAN

What will I do, and by when?

Action	Linked to my goal	Who helps	By when	Done

The first step I will take this week

Review

Come back to the plan at 3, 6 and 12 months. Repeat the GRIP steps in a quick form: Are my goals still right? Where am I now? What input helped? What is the plan now?

3 months Date: _____

What I did / what changed

What is next (updated goals and plan)

6 months Date: _____

What I did / what changed

What is next (updated goals and plan)

12 months Date: _____

What I did / what changed

What is next (updated goals and plan)

Evidence of my progress (sessions delivered, feedback received, courses completed)

Coach signature / date	Mentor or club contact signature / date

For clubs: supporting your coach's development

A short GRIP conversation to have with each of your coaches

Developing your coaches is one of the best things a club can do for its players, and it helps you keep good coaches. This page gives you four questions to guide a 20-30 minute catch-up. Keep it supportive, not a performance review. Let the coach lead, and share the completed plan.

GOALS

- What do you want to get out of this season?

- Where would you like to be as a coach in 12 months?

REFLECT/REVIEW

- What is going well in your coaching right now?

- What would you change about a recent session or match?

INPUT

- What would help most: a mentor, a course, someone to observe you, more time, feedback?

- What can the club offer?

PLAN

- What is the first step, who owns it, and by when?

- When will we check in again?

What our club will do

- [ ] Give the coach protected time for the catch-up and for their development
- [ ] Name one club contact who checks in with them
- [ ] Contribute to course or licence fees (all or part)
- [ ] Connect them with a mentor (for example through Coach 2 Mentor)
- [ ] Let them observe, or be observed by, another coach
- [ ] Agree a date for the next catch-up

Notes and what we agreed
